Congressman Leonard Lance,

I serve onboard the USS CHANCELLORSVILLE (CG 62), currently Forward Deployed to Yokosuka, Japan. I have been attached to the command for 34 months, with a projected rotation date (PRD) of September 2015.

✓ I have decided to reach out to your office, because I was informed that the orders I am due to receive were drafted in November 2014 and submitted for funding in March/April 2015 timeframe, but have been put on hold due to the depletion of "TDI funding." I am not deeply versed in the budgeting of NAVPERSCOM, but through a lengthy conversation with my career counselor (Detailer), I was able to parse out a dubious explanation for why my Permanent Change of Station (PCS) orders have not been approved and released to my command. (b) (6) detailers for my speciality (Supply Corps Officer, designator 3100), informed me that the funds under the TDI line of accounting have been short since April, and many officers are experiencing the problem of obtaining orders that include a training school between duty stations.

In October 2014, I was selected for a special program billet commonly referred to as the Supply Corps Internship Program (ref NAVSUPINST 1520.5A). The anticipated release orders for this program were April-July 2015. However, due to the "scarcity" of TDI funding the orders have not been funded and released. The delayed release of these orders have placed an excessive burden on my current Forward Deployed status and the later the orders are released the greater the difficulty for me to transfer and report to the TDI funded school en route to my next duty station.

Without this funding I am not able to receive orders and to transition from my current command. I am concerned that the orders either will not be funded or will be delayed. This ultimately will hurt my Naval career, and has placed upon me an excessive personal and emotional strain. Per the MILPERSMAN 1301-110 (Chp 6, pg 11, no 19) the recommended tour length for a Supply Corps Officer's first operational tour is 30 months. This may be shortened or extended by additional six months depending on the needs of the service and the command to which the officer is assigned. The command is in support of my transfer in the August/September 2015 timeframe. Many of my peers, and some much junior than I, have received and executed orders to their next duty station, enabling them to gain a greater understanding of the Department of Defense and Naval Supply Systems and network, ultimately enhancing their value to the Navy, and thus improve their career opportunities and chances for promotion in the future. I do not want my career to be harmed, because funding, which is budgeted for the entire fiscal year, is used without proper discretion and oversight.

I respectfully request a case to be opened to inquire as to why TDI funding is scarce and why orders that rely on this funding are not being funded in a timely manner.

Very Respectfully,

(b) (6)

Good afternoon and congratulations again on being selected for your internship!

Your orders will be initiated for assignment to the GEN SUP/OPLOG INTERNSHIP (BSC 41025) billet at CORND0; NSWG ONE LOGSUPP (UIC: 39585), detaching your current command Sep 2015 and reporting to NSWG ONE LOGSUPP in Oct 2015 for a 24 month tour.

BREAK BREAK

Please provide good in-transit contact information (personal email and cell) so we can reach you between duty stations.

Unfortunately, I am unable to give an estimate of when you will see your orders. Continue to check NSIPS periodically (maybe NLT 2-4 months prior to your detach date), as they will be posted there upon release.

Let me know if you need further information or have any questions.

Ma'am,

This is to follow up with our phone conversation.

We are aiming for a homeport shift starting May 2015. It is not official yet but from CSG-9 to CSG-5/CTF-70, it is pretty certain that the transfer is already approved.

The period going from May to September 2015 will be considered as a deployment for all Sailors with a PRD within six months of departure from NBSD to CFAY.

Now, two things to consider:

1. Can the NSCS or the ENS detailer support this request of PRD change?
2. Time at Sea is important for the professional development of Supply Corps Officers; CHV is just back into the underway mindset with no previous major underway since September 2011.

That said, as long as you and the ENS detailer identify a relief with a sufficient turnover time, CHANCELLORSVILLE will be willing to support a change of date on (b) (6) order. Please note that no gap for this billet will be accepted.

Do not hesitate to contact us if you have any further questions.

Again, thank you for your support and feedback over the phone this morning!

Right now both of your orders are at the "money desk" which is outside of PERS 4412.

(b) (6) has a school enroute to the NSW internship... in Gulfport, and at this time NPC is waiting on TDI funding to open before releasing orders. We (like you) hope that this occurs sooner than later, but right now anything with schools enroute & funding associated to it is held up temporarily. I hope this helps explain the hold up. It's never our intentions to sit on orders... once we prop them in the queue they run through many PERS codes prior to release. Will keep you posted once I see movement. Once they're past the money desk the release is fairly quick.

See attached for more information. The command told (b) (6) to use his orders as CAT2 (CAT1 as of now) and use them to store his HHG and car. He has entitlement in Japan (i.e. OHA; COLA; Utilities) but can only store his HHG and car in San Diego. He doesn't have to accept a homeport shift certificate and extend for 12 months. It is clear for us and from what I read from his detailer that he will receive orders for his NSW internship with transfer scheduled for September.

That said our CO has contacted Millington and requested to see CAT2 orders instead of CAT1 orders for those who are entitled to it. I am close to the same situation (except that I am MIL-to-MIL and have dependent in San Diego) and plan on rotating in October at my PRD. I am confident that our detailers will do the right thing and execute our orders on time when funding becomes available.

Bottom line, again and per our Command guidance, we can move forward and execute our CAT1 orders (i.e. closing rental agreement, storing car and HHG) without exceeding the advantages provided by a set of CAT2 orders (i.e. shipping HHG to Japan and transferring dependents) and obligating ourselves to an extension of 12 months on board CHV.

As always, thank you for your support!

(b) (6),

The command is telling me if I use the orders to put my stuff in storage CONUS and store my car CONUS and not use the entitlements for OCONUS I should be fine. Is this not true? Also I don't have much time left to wait for the internship orders. We leave for Japan at the end of May, and I haven't been able to do a pack up, because I have been without orders. I need time to schedule this pack up. In past HPCs, they allowed those 12 months or less to keep their BAH. They have revoked this option for our command, and so I would be paying completely out of pocket to move and store my house hold goods and car.

Would it be possible to obtain some authoritative clarity in this matter? An email or an instruction or something that will determine without question what I should do? I would be forever grateful.

Thank you for your support and guidance in the matter.

Ma'am,

I am contacting you to inform you I received the HPC orders. I had a concern, because it labels me as Category 1 (PRD over 12 months) and not as Category 2 (PRD under 12 months). If I take this to House hold goods and have my car stored and my HHG stored INCONUS, will this affect my order to the internship? Should I try to get these orders corrected? I am running out of time to get a HHG order submitted, and I do not want to screw this up. Any advice or information you may have regarding this issue would be fantastic. Again, thank you for your time and support.

Ma'am,

No I am not, but they are giving HPC letters to everyone. I guess we are the first ship where everyone is getting a letter and being detached from homeport to the new homeport, even if you are in your window for orders.

Very Respectfully,

Are you planning to execute a HPC move?
Thank you

Ma'am,

I had a concern regarding the Home Port Shift and my orders. Will the HPC letter/orders delay or screw with the process of releasing them? I am now well into the 6 month window and I am concerned the HPC will invariably jack up this process.

Very Respectfully,

Ma'am,

Thank you for the update! The Money Police are evil. I will keep an eye open for orders in April/May.

Very Respectfully,
